"I Love My Room's BRIGHT AND FUN COLORS!"

LAUREN RIIHIMAKI'S ROOM SHOWS
OFF HER BUBBLY PERSONALITY.

After a stressful day, YouTube star Lauren Riihimaki loves coming home to her cheery bedroom. "I think it's so important to love the space you spend the most time in, so I always make sure there are a ton of personal touches and bright colors," Lauren explains. The star behind the popular channel, LaurDIY, knows a thing or two about decorating. Her number one piece of advice? "Think about the things you love, and find a way to incorporate them in your room," suggests Lauren. "It's so comforting coming home every day to a space you love that speaks to your passions and personality." Read on to get a glimpse of Lauren's happy room — and to also score her tips for making your space a place you adore!

Meet Lauren!

The 23-year-old YouTube star has been crafting as long as she can recall, she tells J-14 Decorate.

"My parents joke that I was born with paint and glitter in hand," she laughs. "DIY has always been my go-to outlet for being unique and letting my creative juices flow." Check out her YouTube channel, LaurDIY, and follow her on Instagram @laurdiy.

Lauren is a big fan of storage bins to stash her miscellaneous items. "They're awesome because you can't see the contents inside — which is great if they're not the tidiest!" she smiles.

"I am so obsessed with this ladder shelf," the YouTuber dishes. "I have a few items on here that are super close to my heart, like my first magazine cover and a pic of my old roomie and I from a few years ago."
